LOCAL NEWS

R. H. Radd is holding an auction of stock, implements, etc., on Friday, Oct. 31. His place is 6 miles north of Mirror and 7 miles southwest of Bashaw, on the old Beebe farm. See his ad. in this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wright, of Bashaw, and formerly of Mirror, returned on Saturday last, from a six months' trip to the United States. Alberta looks good to Mr. Wright and he intends to again settle in this province.

Read THE JOURNAL ad. on page 5.

Bishop Pinkham, of Calgary, conducted the services in St. Monica's church last Sunday afternoon. The sermon dealt with the Anglican Forward Movement and the need of unstinted and united effort on the part of all members to make the church efficient. The Calgary diocese is allotted $70,000, which is to be raised by subscription.

There will be a basket ball game between the Mirror and Bashaw boys in the Mirror theatre on Wednesday evening, Nov. 5th. Game starts at 9 p. m. A moving picture show will be run for an hour previous to the game, and a dance will wind up the evening's proceedings.

A Thanksgiving dinner will be given by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church in the Town Hall, on Monday evening, Nov. 10th. A sale of work will also be held at the same time.

Season tickets at $1.75 for the Chautauqua Festival in Mirror will be on sale up to Tuesday noon next, after which the tickets will cost $3.75. The season ticket is good for the six performances. Get your tickets from a member of the association, a list of whom appear in another column. Reserved seat tickets at .10c for each entertainment are on sale at Suggett's drug store.

An emergent meeting of Ancient Landmark Lodge, U. D. A. F. & A. M., was held last (Wednesday) evening.

B. Bunnell, of Lacombe, was in town on Tuesday.

At a meeting of the Yamen Lodge was held in Mirror on Saturday, Oct. 11th, the following officers were elected: Foreman, C. E. Brewster; Master of Cer., W. G. Merkle; Correspondent, Mrs. H. C. Brewster; Overseer, Philip Neil; Sentinels, Melvin Olsen; Lady Rowena, Mrs. W. G. Merkle. The next meeting of the Lodge will be on the first Monday in November.

Rev. and Mrs. Backus visited with friends in Huxley this week.

On Thursday of last week a very enjoyable tea was held in the Library, when the members of the Mirror Library Club met to bid farewell to Mrs. J. A. Johnson, 1st vice president of the club, and who left with Mr. Johnson to take up their residence in Calgary. Mrs. Johnson has been a very active worker of the club and will be greatly missed by a large number of friends. After tea Mrs. M. Olson, on behalf of the members, presented Mrs. Johnson with a Community silver berry spoon. Mrs. Johnson suitably replied.—Cont.

WANTED!

Have you any old magazines, periodicals, pictures, chairs, etc. If so, the Mirror Branch of the G. W. V. A. would appreciate them as a gift, as they are going to open a club room in Mirror. Articles may be left with W. G. Merkle, the Secretary. Here's your chance to do a "bit."

SCREENING THE RAIN-BOW

The color scenes in the Pathé Special Feature, "Infatuation," starring Gaby Deslys, mark the highest point in the achievement of chromatic screen display in which the House of Pathé was the pioneer more than twenty years ago. The scene depicted a performance on the stage of the Casino de Paris at the time of the presentation of the spectacular novelty of the human flag, now produced at the New York Hippodrome.

A company of girls mount a huge frame, and the arrangement of their costumes furnishes the colors first for French tricolor, and then for Old Glory. The rest of the brilliant performance is shown with its glittering ballets, evolution and groupings. For faithful color production, there were no inconsiderable problems to be met, but the lighting experts and specialists from L'Ateliers du Colories, the Pathé establishment at Vincennes, figured them out to perfection, with the co-operation of Director Louis Mercanton. The experts at Vincennes were, also placed in possession of the color plates of all the costumes, so that reproduction might be as faithful as human art and skill could make it. The measure of success achieved herein may be judged by this comment of Gaston Picot, critic and reviewer:

"A soul-sweeping chorus of color, with subtle elements of tone, shading, magnificent flashes of light and beauty that charm the eye and set the heart-singing the chromatic cinema, not of 'Infatuation,' but of irresistible fascination. The machine has come to art and achieved a bewildering marvel." "Infatuation" will be shown at the Mirror Theatre on Saturday Evening, October 25th.

Mrs. A. C. Zehner, of Dallas, Texas, has often been termed the best woman lecturer in America. "It is certain that no other woman on the Chautauqua platform has approached her in popularity as a lecturer during the past decade. Her lecturer, 'Forces That Help or Hinder the Progress of a Nation,' has won for her a secure place in the affections of hundreds of American communities throughout the length and breadth of the country.

Owing to the insertion of the Victory Loan advertisement, which reached us Wednesday, several local items are held over for next week.

We unhesitatingly recommend Magic Baking Powder as being the best and purest baking powder possible to produce. It possesses elements of food that have to do the building up of brain and nerve matter and is absolutely free from alum or other injurious substitutes.

Proportional Representation—No. 4

Opponents of the adoption of the Proportional Representation system in connection with parliamentary, legislative and municipal elections, to which attention has been devoted in this series of articles, urge:

1. It is too complicated for the voters to understand.

The following was the percentage of spoiled ballots in some elections recently held under the P.R. system: Sligo Municipal election: Votes cast, 2,251; spoiled ballots, 43. Of this latter number, 20 were attributable to the new system, while 19 were declared invalid for other reasons. The percentage of spoiled papers due to the P.R. system was, therefore, just over 1 per cent. Edinburgh election: Votes cast, 12,407; invalid from all causes, 270; percentage of invalid votes, 2.2.

2. The method of counting the votes is too elaborate and the process takes too long.

The following comments from places where P.R. has been tried may be taken as indicative of feeling on the question:

(a) Glasgow: The returning officer in one day counted no fewer than 14,000 votes, spread over seven electoral divisions of the city.

(b) Calgary: It took 3½ times as long to count ballots as under the old system.

(c) Kalamazoo: It took 605 hours to count 446 ballots. (d) Of the election in Sligo, "The Champion" of that city says: "The system has justified its adoption. We saw it work; we saw its simplicity. We saw its inherent honesty to the voter all through. . . . It is as easy as the old way; it is a big improvement, and it is absolutely fair. . . . It is very plain, very simple."

However, even two or three days were consumed in counting the ballots, there are still over 36 days left in the year for the Government to function, and the new Parliament, Legislature or Council never takes office immediately. If P.R. secures more representative government, would not the time well spent?

Again, is the ordinary voter concerned with the actual work of counting the ballots? Is not this done by appointed expert officials now? Could not the P.R. method be carried on by such officials also, and possibly by even more expert men than are now selected as returning officers?

3. It divides the electorate into groups and fosters group feeling. Is not group feeling more apt to be inflamed by lack of adequate representation? In cities where the ward system prevails, this is the case. If group or sectional feeling is cultivated, whereas under P.R. the ward system can be done away with while at the same time making adequate provision that minorities can secure their proportionate representation in the Council.

4. P.R. by giving complete representation to the people, will weaken government and make it unstable.

This criticism is not borne out by experience where P.R. has been tried. The strength and stability of a democratic executive depend upon two factors: its personnel and its ability to interpret the will of the people. P.R. tends to strengthen the personnel. M. Georges Loran, the well-known Belgian M.P., states that under P.R. not only were all parties represented in Parliament, but they were represented by their ablest men. He adds, whilst under the former majority system prominent men passed half their lives outside the House. Parliamentary life has consequently gained in authority. "Perhaps the principal benefit of P.R.," he adds, "has been that political life, which has been intensified everywhere, has also been purified, the weapons employed being generally more courteous and more dignified."

Further, a democratic government will be stable if it interprets the will of the people correctly, and P.R., by making our public bodies completely representative of the people, places in the hands of governments a more effective instrument for ascertaining what that will is. This explains why P.R. has rendered government in Belgium stable.

There are many other objections advanced against Proportional Representation, but these are the chief ones, and certainly they do not hold against the manifest fairness of the P.R. method to all people in the election of their representatives.

As pointed out at the first of these articles, the principle of Proportional Representation has been more endorsed in Canada by the National Liberal Association, the Great War Veterans Association, the Canadian Council of Agriculture, the Labor Party, Social Service League, and numerous other reform organizations. It was endorsed by the recent Industrial Conference at Ottawa, and the Government has announced its intention of having an exhaustive inquiry made with a view to its adoption in Federal Parliament.

One writer has said: "People everywhere should, therefore, embrace every opportunity that presents itself to study the question and become as fully informed as possible in regard to it, as it is practically a certainty that it will be adopted in Canada in the not distant future."

It is to encourage such close study that this series of articles has been written.

Worms, however generated, are found in the digestive tract, where they do no harm to the system, but to the health of the child. There can be no comfort for the little ones. All the harmful intruders have been expelled. No better preparation has been found than Miller's Worm Powders. They will immediately destroy the worms and correct the conditions that were favorable to their existence.

Wool Brings Satisfactory Price
W. J. Stark, secretary of the Alberta Provincial Sheep Breeders' Association, received a check for $65,765.28, today a record for the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers Ltd., of Toronto, on account of the wool shipped them for sale by the local association, and which was contributed by 324 sheep owners in northern Alberta and also from British Columbia. The wool has not all been sold as yet, and this reluctance is on the basis of 8c below the market price on each grade. When the balance of the wool is sold, the price contributors will be sent the amounts necessary to balance their accounts. The wool which has been sold has brought a very satisfactory price, some of the fine medium combing has been sold at 68c cents per lb, the medium medium clothing brought 65c.

Canadian Lumber In Britain

Prejudice Against Frame Houses Is Giving Way In Old Land

London, June 25.—The pressure in favor of wood houses in Britain has become so great that it is unlikely any local objections will have any weight against the introduction of the material of health to override existing restrictions. A number of municipalities in Scotland have already taken steps to repeal restricting regulations. It is probable Scotland may lead Britain in wood construction.

It is understood Canadian parties are interested, and an estimate of the plan has been submitted to the Ministry of Health housing committee, stating that the buildings proposed by the ministry's architects would be a discredit to Canadian industry, being solely in appearance, inconsequential in design and will generally defeat popularity.

The raising of restrictions, however, will give Canadian house builders a vast market if they co-operate. They propose construction of complete houses with materials for mill-logs and lumber. Complete materials as to Canadian houses have been received from France, Belgium, and other European countries, even as far east as the Palenates. The Montreal Star has been sending to the Ministry of Health for 20,000 mill-logs has already been booked. Enquiries show that prospective orders in the near future will be well up to $100,000.

British Salvaging Ships Occasionally Divers and Surface Helpers Bring Up a German Submarine

The British are energetically at work undoing to a certain extent the work of the U-boat. Already it is reported that ships to the value of $200,000 have been raised by the Admiralty's salvage department. In the case of the colliders and some other vessels, the cargo also are regained. Of course, costs of salvaging are heavy, but the profits are estimated to warrant the effort.

No unusual methods are employed by the salvaging departments. Steamers with the most modern pumps and powerful lifting ladders are used now as before. One new method has evolved there will be many ships in deep water which will stay there, but the majority of the sinkings were in comparatively shallow water, so that the boats could be raised.

Has been said that the Lusitania might be raised or, at least, the hull in her cargo recovered. In this connection it is interesting to note that $9,500,000 worth of billion recently was taken from the wreck of the Lusitania.

Occasionally the divers and their surface helpers bring up a German submarine, and perhaps a number of secrets of those craft have been revealed to the Admiralty. While the Lusitania fate was suggested after the armistice, it is well known that the Germans had removed many devices which were peculiar and valuable accessories to these craft.

Belia Kun to Face Trial

For Incitement to Murder, Robbery and Forgery

Belia Kun and his associates are to be prosecuted for incitement to murder, robbery and forgery. This man's name would be Adolf Cohen, in English. Kun was heard of in Hungarian politics until last year. He is 37 years old and married. Before the war he was secretary of the local workmen's union, in Lasyvane, near Arad. He was arrested for stealing the union funds, 30,000 kronen, and prosecuted. On his promise to pay back the money in instalments he was released. When the war started he was mobilized with the rest of the Hungarians, but either deserted or was taken prisoner by the Russians, for about one year ago he was in Petrograd, accused of being one of the biggest partys of Lenin. Supplied by funds from the Bolshevik treasury, he returned to Hungary and organized the reign of terror, organized the radical mob, and entered the field against the Czechs, Poles and Rumanians.

THURSDAY, OCT. 23, 1919

After an absence of three years the editor of this sheet again assumes that role, and with the aid of scissors and paste, together with "some"
manual and mental labor, will endeavor to issue a weekly edition. For the information of those who are not acquainted with our past history, we might say that the time was spent in globe-trotting, viewing some of the historical scenes and ruins of France and the Old Country; consuming our share of bully beef, hard tack and
"rare" old Australian "mutton"
and several other delicacies;
and incidentally getting a
"scratching" acquaintance with
"friends" too numerous to mention.

However, we are back on the job again, and with the support of the business men of Mirror are in a position to once more publish The Mirror
JOURNAL. We take this opportunity of thanking them and trust that they will continue to give that support, both morally and financially. If the people of the community consider the paper of any material benefit, we ask them to show their appreciation by subscribing.

Appeals on behalf of the Victory Loan of 1919 have been made in general terms and not to any particular classes, because it has been felt that the important project must be equally interesting to all classes of citizens in Canada. This conclusion has been justified by the success of previous loan campaigns.

Particular credit must be given,
however, to the farmers of the Dominion for the unselfish and generous response they have made to former appeals.
There can be no doubt that the same spirit will characterize their answer to the present appeal.

The farmers are the most conservative business men of the country. Farming is the oldest profession in the world and the most stable. Commercial industries may fluctuate and change with the time, but the tillers of the soil remain solid and fundamental because their business is the most basic of all.
Thus it is that farmers are the most anxious of all classes for the return of normal conditions.
A stable industry flourishes
under ordinary progressive conditions but is uncertain
when times are abnormal.

Farmers gave freely to the Victory Loans for the purpose of ending the war. That was but one important step and the rest of the work must be finished. To bring about the resumption of normal conditions the men who fought overseas must be settled in Canada in comfort, credits must be extended to Great Britain and the "World Wars Ltd." must be wound up. This all takes money and the Victory Loan of 1919 will furnish that money.

The loan is not a matter of politics nor entirely of patriotism, but essentially of good business, and the farmers of Alberta will appreciate the terms which offer more attractions this year than ever before.

Two years ago Alberta ran second of all the provinces in per capita subscriptions to the Victory Loan. Last year, owing doubtless to the flu epidemic, Alberta ran third. It would be fine if Alberta could take first place in the third heat
this year.

Where It's Summer All The Time

This is the season when you are thinking of where you will spend the winter. You cannot do better than consult Grand Trunk Pacific representatives.

The railway and steamship route to North Pacific Coast points and California is the new way and without a peer. The ocean voyage through the quiet seas of the "Inside Passage" between Prince Rupert, Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle is the finest ocean trip in America. Winter rates will be announced shortly. For information and literature apply to any Agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, or write W. E. Duperow, General Passenger Agent, Winnipeg.

Publicity on Second Episode

The Hidden Chart

Hardwick's activities in endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the Terror of the Range, leader of the gang of Midnight Marauders, soon aroused the attention of the gang and one evening he found a note pinned to his bunk in the sleeping quarters of the cowboys. The note read:

"To the Easterner: If you are still here at midnight you will never see the sun rise."

Hardwick, of course, is not the sort to be frightened by such a note and he laughs as he shows it to the rest of the cowboys and allows that he will stick around that evening and perhaps have a chat with the Terror. Meanwhile another factor in the situation is developing. Not far from the Martin ranch in a den in the mountains lurks a band of Mexican bandits headed by Miguel, a crafty brigand. His sweetheart, Carmencia, is of a flirtatious type and her attentions to Francesco, Miguel's lieutenant, precipitates a battle between the two Mexicans that results in a knife duel. Francesco, after a terrific fight, kills Miguel and leaping on a horse flees from the infuriated Mexicans who are angered at the death of their leader.

Now, Thelma has made a discovery.

She has always wondered why Nordyke, the old paralytic sits and gazes at the portrait of her mother, so she examines the portrait closely and finally begins to dust it off. While doing this she accidentally knocks it to the floor. As she lifts it up to replace it the back tears away and reveals a small tin box concealed between the painting and the backing. She draws it forth and finds a map and route and some other papers. While she is looking at it the wandering Francesco, who is lurking about the ranch, looks through the window and notes that Thelma has the papers which he knows reveals the way to great wealth. He immediately returns to the band with the news and is immediately forgiven for the murder of Miguel since the recovery of the map will make all of the gang rich.

The Mexicans go to the ranch to get the map and arrive just as a terrific battle is going on between the Terror and his men and the ranch cowboys.

A regular meeting of the Mirror branch of the Great War Veterans' Association was held in the town hall on Monday evening last. Present: President P. Tinker; Secretary W. G. Merkle; Comrades Yorke, Brace, Webster, R. M. and F. G. Pym, MacKirdy, Durant, Good.

It was decided to rent the building on Lake street, (owned by Melvin Olson) for a club room and the executive will proceed at once with the furnishing. A request to the public for books, magazines, periodicals, etc., will be made.

As the Veterans will require funds to carry on the business here, it was decided to hold a series of dances during the coming winter months. The first dance will take place on Friday, Nov. 21st; on New Year's Eve there will be a box social and dance; and on St. Valentine's Day in February, a masquerade.

The members of the G.W.V.A. will sell tickets for each affair and the people of Mirror and district will have an opportunity of supporting the local branch in their endeavor to keep the club room in existence.

The Why? of Another Victory Loan

WHEN, on the morning of November 11th, 1918, the guns were hushed and glad tidings flashed across the world, there followed with the Nation's Prayer of Thanksgiving, one yearning query, which found echo in the faster beating hearts of wives, mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts. That query was, "How soon will our boy be home?" And, from France and Flanders, from Italy and Egypt, from Palestine and from far-off Siberia, there came an answering echo, "How soon, how soon, may we go home?"

CANADA caught the spirit of these longings, and at once resolved to satisfy them. It was an appalling task. Shipping was tragically scarce. The composition of the Army of Occupation had not then been settled. And other parts of the Empire as well as Canada were looking for the speedy return of their men.

THE problem was this. The half-million men that Canada had overseas had taken more than four years to transport to the field of battle. To bring them home in a few months was a gigantic undertaking—one to tax all Canada's ingenuity and resources. Canada solved the problem, but it meant crowding into a few short months, an expense for demobilization which it was impossible to foresee.

THEN, too, besides the sentimental aspect of the necessity for bringing the men home quickly the economic side could not be overlooked. That was, to transform efficiently and speedily the nation's army of fighters into a national army of workers.

Need Divides Itself in Two Parts

Obligations
to Soldiers

The answer to the question "Why does Canada need another Victory Loan?" divides itself into two parts. (a) To finish paying the expenses of demobilization, and the obligations we still owe to our soldiers. The obligations to soldiers include: That already incurred cost of bringing home troops from overseas. The payment of all soldiers still demobilized. This includes more than 20,000 sick and wounded who are still in hospital, and who of course remain on the Army payroll till discharged. The upkeep of hospitals, and their medical and nursing staffs, until the need for them is ended. These three items alone will use up at least $200,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1919.

Gratuities

There is also the gratuity which has been authorized, and has been and is being paid to assist soldiers to tide over the period between discharge and their re-adjustment to civil life. For this purpose alone, $61,000,000 must be provided out of the Victory Loan 1919, in addition to the $59,000,000 already paid out of the proceeds of the Victory Loan 1918.

Land Settlement

Furthermore, soldiers who desire to become farmers may, under the Soldiers' Land Settlement Act, be loaned money by Canada with which to purchase land, stock and implements. The money so advanced will be paid back; meantime each loan is secured by a first mortgage. Up to August 15th, 29,495 soldiers had applied for land under the terms of this Act; and 22,281 applications had been investigated, and the qualifications of the applicant approved. For this purpose Canada this year requires $24,000,000.

Vocational Training

For this work, which, with the Vocational Training and Soldiers' Service Departments, embraces the major activities of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, an appropriation of $57,000,000 is necessary.

Those who give thought to our outstanding obligations to soldiers, and to our need for national working capital, cannot fail to be impressed with the absolute necessity for the

These national expenditures are war expenses. They will be accepted readily by every citizen who gives thought to the task which Canada faced following the Armistice, and to the success with which she has met it.

National Working Capital

Canada needs national working capital, so that she may be able to sell on credit to Great Britain and our Allies the products of our farms, forests, fisheries, mines and factories. You may ask "Why sell to them if they can't pay cash?" The answer is, "Their orders are absolutely essential to the continuance of our agricultural and industrial prosperity."

The magnitude of these orders and the amount of employment thereby created, will depend upon the success of the Victory Loan 1919.

The "Why" of Credit Loans

Farmers and manufacturers (and that includes the workers on these orders) must be paid cash for their products. Therefore, Canada must borrow money from her citizens to give credit, temporarily, to Great Britain and our Allies. Actually, no money will pass out of Canada. If Canada does not give credit, other countries will; and they will get the trade, and have the employment that should be ours, to distribute amongst their workers. And remember, we absolutely need these orders to maintain employment. If we don't finance them business will be the depression, employment will not be as plentiful, and conditions everywhere will be adversely affected.

For Trans- portation

Money must also be available to carry on the nation's shipbuilding programme, and other transportation development work. For loans to Provincial Housing Commissions who are building moderate priced houses. These, then, are some of the things for which Canada needs national working capital. She is in the position of a great trading company, and her citizens who buy Victory Bonds are the shareholders.

Victory Loan 1919

"Every Dollar Spent in Canada,"

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.
